GULF CREWS RELATE HARROWING STORIES

Experiences of Fishing Smacks Arriving at Galveston.

SAILORS PARALYZED BY FRIGHT

Mexican Earthquake Is Supposed To Have Caused Great Commotion in the Gulf—Jets of Hot Water Shot Over 200 Feet in the Air.

Chicago, April 19.—A dispatch to the Inter-Ocean from Galveston, Tex., says:

The lower gulf was converted into a sea of boiling water Sunday night, when the earth cracked and jets of hot water shot into the air nearly 250 feet high.

Fishing smacks of the gulf fisheries which ply between Galveston and the fishing grounds off Campecha, are arriving and the crews relate harrowing tales of their experiences, not knowing of the Mexican earthquake until they reached here. The crew of the Alloha, Captain Swenson, was paralyzed with fright about midnight Sunday when the smack, which was homeward bound, was caught in a series of cross-currents, which held it a prisoner for nearly an hour.

Three hours later the ice in the hold used to preserve the fish, had melted.

LEGAL ACTION AT STANDSTILL.

Former Attorney General Herbert Parker May Defend Thaw.

New York, April 19.—Harry K. Thaw's case remains at a standstill, so far as legal action is concerned.

A statement to the public from Thaw is expected regarding his selection of counsel. Meantime the question of applying for the prisoner's release on bail is held in abeyance.

The latest report regarding the man who will defend Thaw at his next trial is that former Attorney General Herbert T. Parker, of Massachusetts, is to be chosen. Parker acted as prosecutor in the famous murder trial of Charles Tucker, who was convicted of the murder of Mabel Page.

ROOSEVELT CRITICISED.

Seattle Central Labor Council Passes Resolutions.

Seattle, Wash., April 19.—The Seattle central labor council has passed resolutions scoring President Roosevelt's action in referring to E. H. Harriman, as a citizen, as undesirable as Moyer, Haywood or Debs.

The resolution criticises the president for prejudicing the alleged murderers of former Governor Steunenburg, of Idaho, before they have been tried and for denying them the rights of American citizens to be presumed innocent until proved guilty.

The labor leader requested that the president retract, and asked for a square deal for the men whose names they declare he has clouded.

Will Be Chief Sponsor.

Montgomery, Ala., April 19.—Dr. Thomas M. Owen, commander in chief of the United Sons of the Confederate Veterans, has announced the appointment of Miss Eva Comer, of Birmingham, daughter of Governor Comer, as sponsor in chief for the Richmond reunion, with Miss Julia Fulton Williams, of Yazoo City, Miss., and Miss Amy McRae Werth, of Richmond, as maids of honor. Mrs. J. C. Lee, of Montgomery, was named as matron of honor, and Mrs. Louise Bankhead Perry, of Greenville, S. C., as chaperon. Miss Williams is a daughter of John Sharp Williams, minority leader of the lower house of congress.

Ice Trust Members Indicted.

Columbus, O., April 19—The grand jury, which adjourned a day or two ago, returned secret indictments against the members of the "ice trust" in this city on the ground that they had conspired in restraint of trade. The men indicted are C. M. Kinnaird, W. W. Polley, D. O. Davis, Starling Waddell, F. G. Stockdell, D. H. Norvelle and W. H. Philips.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPES.

Remarkable Story of Recent Earthquake in Mexico.

City of Mexico, Mexico, April 19.—Owing to the great difficulty in establishing communication with the cities situated in the region of the greatest devastation wrought by the recent earthquake, details are coming to this city very slowly.

Each succeeding intelligence magnifies instead of diminishing the extent of the disaster.

From the latest reports it is learned that the earth is now still in the region which was sorely afflicted, but the latest shock occurred as late as noon Wednesday.

In the list of known dead which now totals 50, and the injured approximately 300, are many names of Mexicans, prominent in the official and social life of the region. So far the name of no American or other foreigner has appeared in the meager list of injured and dead, as sent to this city, although many are residents of the district afflicted, being engaged in mining and agricultural pursuits. The country most damaged is a particularly rich territory.

One of the most remarkable stories of miraculous escapes from death from this earthquake, or perhaps any other comes from Santa Julia. In that colony is located the Salesciano college, a school for children. The building was a new structure and supposed to be earthquake-proof. When the big shock came Sunday night, over a hundred school children were asleep in the dormitories. Thirty-five of these, together with the instructors of the institution, succeeded in leaving the building before the second story and the roof fell.

When the terrified teachers counted their charges and found that 70 were missing, they immediately improvised rope ladders and ascended to where they believed they would find the remainder of the missing pupils. Their surprise and joy was unbounded when they reached the highest of the ruins and found the terrified children clinging to beams and rafters. Not one was even injured.

The roof, in falling, had so rested on the beams that an open space was left over the place where the little ones had sought refuge. The children were safely conveyed to the ground.

TRIED TO POISON FAMILY.

Three More Members of the Mette Family Made Ill by Arsenic.

Chicago, April 19.—Three surviving members of the Mette family, of this city, two of whose members recently died becausee of arsenical poisoning, were made critically ill Wednesday by partaking of food in which the police declare arsenic had been placed.

Frank Mette, the father of the family, died last Saturday, and Mrs. Mary Mette, his wife, died April 6. Three other members of the family were also made ill and are now in the hospital. Of those remaining in the house, three sons, were poisoned by eating oatmeal, which had been brought into the house since the father of the family died. It is believed a plot exists to poison the entire family, but so far no clew has been obtained to the person who placed the poison in the feod.

Of Importance to the Nation.

New York, April 19—The executive committee of the national rifle association, of America, at a meeting held in the association's offices, 299 Broadway, New York city, adopted the plans proposed by General James A. Drain, president of the association, for schoolboy rifle shooting. The great importance to the nation of this action, and what its value will be to future generations, as an addition to the country's defensive strength, and as an agency for the promotion of peace, can hardly be comprehended.

Kicked and Beaten by Strikers.

Chicago, April 19.—Because he refused to go on strike, three weeks ago, Edward F. Fago, a car cleaner employed by the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, was hit on the head with a brick and then jumped on and kicked by three men. He died later. The police arrested Paul Majka and are searching for Henryy Motka and Joseph Malka, who, they assert, aided in the attack on Fago.

SIX CARDINALS ARE GIVEN THE RED HAT

Public Consistory is Held in the "Eternal City."

PEOPLE CROWDED THE STREETS

Procession Accompanying Pope Was Long and Interesting, Being Composed of Many Notable Personages. Swiss Guards Headed Procession.

Rome, April 19.—A public consistory took place at the vatican Thursday with great ceremony. This being the season in which Rome is crowded with tourists, the demand for tickets was extraordinary. At an early hour all the streets leading to St. Peters were black with people, hurrying to get good places at the vatican and so on to the hall of beatifications and the corridors through which the papal procession were to pass, were crowded with priests, monks, laymen and ladies in black veils, while the tribunes erected for the occasion contained the family of the pope, the Roman aristocracy and the members of the diplomatic corps.

The procession accompanying the pope was long and interesting being composed of many notable personages. The Swiss guard headed the procession, and the noble guard surrounded the person of the pontiff, who was dressed in white. He was preceded by the cardinals in full red robes and followed by the bishops and archbishops.

When the pontiff was seated on the throne, the six new cardinals advanced one by one to receive the red hat. Each prelate knelt at the feet of the pope while the master of ceremonies held a magnificent red hat over the cardinal's head, the pope saying:

"Accipe galerum rubrum," etc., arose and gave the papal embrace.

The new cardinals then pased from cardinal to cardinal to receive the kiss of brotherhood, while the choir sang softly. The only cardinal created at the secret consistory of April 15 who was not present, was Mgr. Rinaldini, the papal nuncio, at Madrid, who will receive the red hat at the next public consistory.

The pope then imparted the apostolic blessing and withdrew, surrounded by his court and guards, to preside later at a supplementary secret consistory—the new cardinals in the meanwhile returning thanks before the altar of the Sistine chapel.

The United States was represented at the ceremony by Mgr. Robrt E. Eton, of New Jersey; Mgr. Thomas O'Gorman, bishop of Sioux Falls, and Mgr. John Farrelly, spiritual director of the American college.

The students of the American college were present, as well as the American students of the college of the propaganda.

ATTEMPT ON PASTOR'S LIFE.

Heavy Charge of Dynamite Exploded Under Parsonage at Hazleton.

Hazleton, Pa., April 19.—An attempt was made here to kill the Rev. Matthew Yankola, pastor of St. Joseph's Slavonic church, in this city.

A heavy charge of dynamite was exploded under the entrance to the parsonage. It tore out a portion of the porch, shattered all the windows in the house, and split in the front door.

There have been factional troubles in the church for some time. One faction has asked for the removal of the pastor, but without success. Several weeks ago Father Yankola received a letter from the "Black Hand" threateneding him with death unless he left the city. He asserts that the dynamiting is the work of members of the faction opposed to his retention.

Free Delivery for Tifton.

Washington, April 19.—The postoffice department has ordered that a free city delivery carrier system be inaugurated at Tifton, Ga., to begin June 1. The houses have been numbered and the streets named in accordance with the regulation. There will be three letter carriers and one substitute carrier.

CLASSES VS. THE MASSES.

Toast at Dinner of New York Post Graduate Medical Society.

New York, April 19.—Jacob Schiff, who was one of the guests of honor at the dinner of the New York Post Graduate Medical Society at Delmonico's Wednesday night, said in a toast in which he was congratulating the institution upon the announcement of a bequest to it of about $110,000:

"We hear much of the responsibility of the classes to the masses. Gentlemen, I am not sure whether the masses do their duty as thoroughly as do the classes. I am filled with admiration for men like Rockefeller and Morgan, and the others of whom Dr. Miller (the secretary of the school) spoke. They have great fortunes, but they direct their diffusions rightly. Their wealth is a reservoir into which run little streams from the mountains, which, of themselves, would be of no use to mankind."

Mr. Schiff pointed out that the medical profession could do much to assist the classes in the management of the wealth they had collected from the masses by showing the general run of mankind that it was a good thing that the means of doing things had been concentrated in the hands of a few who could use them wisely.

"You doctors," he said, "who come into touch with all classes, cannot do better than to teach toleration of the wealthy man. At present the men who have gathered great fortunes are indiscriminately condemned."

POPULAR DIVINE DIES.

Rev. Dr. Hamlin Passes Away at New York City.

Washington, April 19.—A dispatch received here from New York announces the death at Hahneman hospital in that city of Rev Dr. Teunis S. Hamlin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant in this city. He is survived by his wife, chaplain general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and two sons, Bert Hamlin, an attorney of New York, and Franklin Hamlin, who is completing his studies in college.

Dr. Hamlin was regarded as one of the most popular divines in the east and his congregation numbered many persons of wealth and social prominence. He was chairman of the committee of his presbytery on the revision of the "Confession of Faith" of the Presbyterian church, was one of the trustees of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, president of the Open Air Workers' Association of America and president of the board of trustees of Howard university of this city.

Tennesseean Suicides.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 19.—A special to the Sentinel from Morristown, Tenn., says that Hugh Jarnigan, aged 60 years, a prominent business man of Morristown, committed suicide Thursday morning, shooting himself in the left temple. Ill health and insomnia are attributed as the cause of the self-destruction. He was wealthy and influential, and connected with a leading family of east Tennessee.

Annual Meeting Held.

Washington, April 19.—The financial board of the African Methodist church is holding its annual meeting here, with members present from many of the large cities. The annual report of the financial secretary, E. W. Lampton, which has been submitted to the board, shows receipts for the past year of $161,293.

Dayton, O., April 19.—Mrs. Leah C. Gilman, her son, Collins, and daughters Bessie and Fayne, waived preliminary hearing in Squire Holderman's court Thursday morning and were bound over to the grand jury on the charge of murdering Dona Gilman. They were released on bond aggregating $7,000.

Bandit Gets $35,000.

EDWARD IS GREETED BY VICTOR EMANUEL

During Royal Salutes and the Cheers of People.

USUAL SALUTES EXCHANGED

English Women From High Bastions of the Fort at Gaeta Sing "God Save the King"—King Victor Kisses Alexandra's Hand.

Gaeta, April 19.—The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with King Edward and Queen Alexandra on board, arrived here Wednesday morning from Valletta, Island of Malta, escorted by the British cruisers Suffolk and Lancaster. King Edward was received by King Victor Emanuel, who was on board the Italian royal yacht Trimacria, surrounded by 12 Italian warships and 12 torpedo boats. The usual salutes were exchanged, and hearty cheers greeted the British king from the people ashore and the sailors on board the warships.

The weather, which had been most stormy recently, fortunately cleared to some extent, and the meeting of the two kings took place upon more favorable auspices than had been anticipated.

The two kings embraced each other repeatedly when they met on board the Trimacria, and King Victor Emanuel kissed Queen Alexandra's hand.

A luncheon on board the Trimacria followed. It was mainly attended by military and naval officers, the only native invited being General De Rosso, commander of the Fort of Gaeta. The presence of Marine Minister Mirabello and the commanders of so many men of war before one of the chief strongholds in the Mediterranean accentuated the martial character of the repast. The toasts exchanged were simply expressions of the friendship between Italy and Great Britain.

A crowd of English women, who were permitted to witness King Edward's arrival from the high bastions of the fort, gave vent to their patriotism by singing: "God Save the King," which was acknowledged by the British royal yacht dipping her ensign.

Tried to Pass Counterfeit Money.

Gadsden, Ala., April 19—B. Hayes, a countryman, hailing from Buck's Pocket, Jackson county, has been arrested by the police, charged with attempting to pass counterfeit ten-dollar bills. Hayes when arrested had a bill in his pocket which had been raised from one to ten by pasting figures over the one. It is said that Hayes is a member of the notorious Stansell gang who were convicted at Fort Payne some years ago for counterfeiting, and that he managed to make his escape. He is being held for the United States authorities.

$650,000 Suit Set for Trial.

Birmingham, Ala., April 19.—The largest damage suit ever filed in Jefferson county has been set for trial in the circuit court for next Monday morning. William W. McAfee seeks $650,000 damages from the Atlantic and Brimingham Air Line Railroad company, a part of the Seaboard Air Line, on account of construction work done on the line between Birmingham and Atlanta. The trial is expected to consume about three weeks.

May Double Assessment.

Montgomery, Ala., April 19.—The Atlanta Coast Line was the first of the lines contesting the new Alabama laws to come before the state board of assessment for tax valuations, and the result may be the placing of more than double the value that is now assessed. The board now has the value at $15,000 a mile, and may raise it in the litigation.

More Honors For Carnegie.

New York, April 19.—More honors are to be heaped upon Andrew Carnegie. The board of trustees of the Brooklyn public library are planning to immortalize him in bronze. A bas-relief in bronze of Mr. Carnegie is to be put in each of the twenty-two public libraries in Brooklyn.

DEATH OF CHAS. R. HOWELL.

One of Gainesville's Old and Well Known Citizens Passes Away.

Chas R. Howell, seventy-nine years of age, and one of Gainesville's pioneer citizens, passed away at his home during Thursday night as a result of la-grippe, from which he has been suffering for the past ten weeks. It was his advanced age which eventually resulted in death from this illness.

Deceased was a native of Illinois, but came to Gainesville from Cairo, that State, twenty-eight years ago, since which time he and his devoted wife have been residents here.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church in this city for more than twenty years, and was possessed of a liberal, generous, Christian character which has marked his life for years. He is survived by a devoted wife, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

The funeral was held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Methodist church, Rev. T. J. Nixon officiating. The pall-bearers were L. L. Hill, W. P. Carter, G. M. Colman, James Doig, E. Baird and E. J. Baird. The interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

There were numerous floral designs, the casket being covered, which was evidence of the high esteem in which deceased was held.

THE EPISCOPAL MISSION.

Archdeacon Webber Continues to Draw Good Congregations.

Archdeacon Webber of Boston, who is conducting a series of meetings at the new Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, continues to draw large congregations from all denominations. He is holding services three times daily—7 a. m. and 4 and 8 p. m. His subject Friday evening was "The Eight Glories of Christianity," and his discourse was one of the most interesting he has yet made.

The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

A Delightful Musicale.

The society column of The Times-Union of Thursday contains the following, which will prove of interest to readers of The Sun, the parties being former residents and well known here:

"Tuesday evening, April 16, at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Dorsey, 1617 Hubbard street, a very delightful musicale was given by the pupils of Miss Mary White Redmond. After the rendition of enjoyable numbers which reflected great credit upon the class, an interesting contest followed.

"A prize was offered for the one who could recognize and write the names of twenty-one composers whose portraits were framed and numbered. When the papers were examined, it was found to be a tie between Miss Laura Brownfield and Miss Anna Teutenberg, who drew for a beautifully framed picture of six favorite classic composers, and Miss Anna Teutenberg won.

"Mrs. Brownfield assisted Mrs. Dorsey in serving delicious refreshments to the pupils and patrons."

Clergymen and Shoes.

A pretty girl was buying a pair of shoes.

"No," she said, "this pair won't do. They pinch. I must have a size wider."

The salesman was an elderly man, and he took a fatherly liberty in commending her determination to sacrifice her pride for the sake of greater comfort.

"As a matter of fact," he went on, "it is all nonsense to think that women as a sex are peculiarly vain of their feet. I have been in this business for twenty years, and it is my experience that men are just as likely as women to demand shoes that are too small for them.

"Take clergymen. Of all persons, whether men or women, they show the greatest vanity when it comes to buying a pair of shoes. The clergymen I have fitted in the course of my life I can number by the score, and with only a few exceptions they have all shown the greatest willingness to submit to discomfort if only their feet can be made to appear smaller. They will struggle and tug and get red in the face to squeeze their feet into shoes that nature never intended them to wear. Take my word for it, no woman could possibly be more vain of her feet than is the average clergyman."—New York Press.

The Value and Importance of Ethical Remedies.

Remedies which physicians sanction for family use, as they act most beneficially and are gentle yet prompt in effect, and called ethical, because they are of Known Excellence and Quality and of Known Component Parts.

To gain the full confidence of the Well-Informed of the world and the approval of the most eminent physicians, it is essential that the component parts be known to and approved by them, and, therefore, the California Fig Syrup Company has published for many years past in its advertisements and upon every package a full statement thereof. The perfect purity and uniformity of product which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character are assured by the California Fig Syrup Company's original method of manufacture, known to the Company only.

There are other ethical remedies approved by physicians, but the product of the California Fig Syrup Company possesses the advantage over all other family laxatives that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts, without disturbing the natural functions or any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs, and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtlessly it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs; and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for Syrup of Figs, or by the full name, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company, and the same heretofore known by the name, Syrup of Figs, which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

Mad Dogs.

Mad dogs do not attack people. "When a dog has the rabies," said a physician, "he has lost control of his body, and what he does is mechanical. His jaws snap involuntarily, and if he encounters any object, whether animate or inanimate, he is likely to bite it. But a mad dog does not attack as does an angry dog. He does not pick out a victim or use any strategy. For this reason dogs suffering from rabies are less dangerous than is supposed. No grown person need fear them, for all he has to do is to get out of the way. The dog will not chase him. Of course, young children are in danger, as they do not know how to dodge the brute."

Sawing Out a Segment.

This rule is given by the Wood worker for sawing out a segment—a piece straight on one edge and curved on the other: Suppose the segment is to be 48 inches long and 4 inches wide at the central or widest place. Square one-half the length (24 inches), which gives 576; square the width (4 inches), which gives 16; add 576 and 16, obtaining 592; divide 592 by twice the width (2×4=8), which gives 74 inches, the radius. This rule will apply to any case.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

A Number of Bills and Resolutions Brought Forth the Senators and Representatives in All Their Eloquence. Legislature Adjourned to Friday.

Thursday was another busy day with the Legislature in both Houses.

The Senate was called to order at 10 a. m. by President Harris.

Among the new bills introduced were the following:

By Mr. Sams—To amend Sections 654 and 655, general statutes, relating to State printing.

By Mr. Willis—Providing for the giving of bonds by members of boards of county commissioners in each county in the State.

By Mr. Willis—To amend Section 870, general statutes, relating to payment of costs in criminal cases if the defendant is not convicted or dies.

By Mr. Willis—Providing for giving of bonds by members of boards of public instruction in each county in the State.

By Mr. West of the Fourth—Relating to secret societies, chapters, orders or meetings in this State.

By Mr. Crane—To amend Section 3072, general statutes, relating to dockets to be kept by the justices of the peace.

By Mr. Crane—Authorizing boards of county commissioners, city and town councils, to appropriate money for advertising or exhibiting the resources or particular advantages of their respective counties or municipalities.

By Mr. Humphreys—To prohibit the bringing into dry counties or precincts of intoxicating liquors by persons, corporations, or public or private carriers.

For Good Roads.

Senator Adams introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee to which shall be referred all bills relating to the question of good roads. The resolution of the Senator from the Thirtieth received the fact that the people of the State were deeply interested in this question and that it deserved the most careful consideration. The importance of this resolution was at once recognized and under the waiver of rules the resolution was read the second time in full and unanimously adopted.

Petitions relative to erection of monument to Florida soldiers at Chickamauga were read and ordered spread upon the journal.

Messages from House were received, read and properly referred.

Bills on Third Reading.

Rules were waived, and bills on third reading were taken up, Senator West of the First in the chair.

By Mr. Harris—Authorizing trustees of internal improvement fund to construct a lock and dam across Lake Hicpochee canal, and making an appropriation of $25,000 therefor was read the third time in full. Senator Harris explained the object of the bill, and referred to the uncompleted work of drainage, and the consequent damage to a vast extent of territory in Lee county by constant floods. He explained that competent engineers said the construction of this lock and dam would protect this territory. The Senator spoke briefly, but earnestly in favor of said bill, which, on roll-call, was passed by the vote of 20 to 1.

By Mr. Willis—To amend Section 1[illegible], general statutes, relating to owning United States license prima facto evidence, was read the third time in full, and passed by vote of 24 to 0.

The Senate then reverted back to the regular order of bills on second reading, and Senate Bill No. 58, by Mr. [illegible], was read the second time. This is a bill to require express companies doing business in this State to post schedules of rates and to weigh all articles received by such companies for shipment by express, or delivered by such companies, such articles having been received by express, and providing a penalty for the violation thereof. Rules were waived and bill read the third time and put on its passage. Passed, 23 to 0.

President Harris appointed Senator West of the First as the member of the committee on part of Senate to visit the State reform school at Marianna.

On motion, the Senate then adjourned until 10 a. m. Friday.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

CURES ALL SKIN TROUBLES.

Sulphur the Accepted Remedy for a Hundred Years.

Sulphur is one of the greatest remedies nature ever gave to man. Every physician knows it cures skin and blood troubles. HANCOCK'S LIQUID SULPHUR enables you to get the full benefit in most convenient form. Don't take sulphur "tablets" or "wafers," or powdered sulphur in molasses. HANCOCK'S LIQUID SULPHUR is pleasant to take and perfect in its action. Druggists sell it.

A well known citizen of Danville, Pa., writes: "I have had an aggravated case of Eczema for over twenty-five years. I have used seven 50-cent bottles of the LIQUID, and one jar of your HANCOCK'S LIQUID SULPHUR OINTMENT, and now I feel as though I had a brand new pair of hands. It has cured me and I am certain it will cure anyone if they persist in using HANCOCK'S LIQUID SULPHUR according to directions.

"BUTLER EDGAR."

Irish Dueling Code.

The Irish dueling code was drawn up by the Irish bar at the Clonmel assizes in 1777 and appears to aim at so arranging matters that no Irishman anxious to fight shall be balked by his wish. "The first offense requires the first apology, although the retort may be more offensive." "After one fire the retort may be explained away. But if either party," the code hastens to add, "would rather fight on, after two shots each the principal who made the retort may explain and then the original offender tender his apology." "When the lie direct is the first offense, the aggressor must either beg pardon in express terms, exchange two shots previous to apology, or three shots followed by explanation, or fire on till a severe hit be scored by one of the parties." "No 'dumb firing,' or firing in the air, is admissible." "In slight cases the second hands his principal but one pistol, in gross cases two, holding another case ready charged in reserve."—Cornhill Magazine.

JOAN OF ARC FETE DAY.

Delegation Visits French Premier and Appoints Program.

Paris, April 19.—An influential delegation from Orleans visited Premier Clemenceau Wednesday, and appointed the program for the celebration of the fete day of Joan of Arc.

According to this, the functionaries and the military will have precedence over the clergy in the procession. It is agreed that the clergy may wear their vestments and carry banners as usual, but they must not display crosses and reliquaries.

The procession will start from the city hall, not from the cathedral, as heretofore, and it will end at the city hall. It will halt at the cathedral to allow the clergy to take up their assigned position. Civil officers may attend the religious ceremonies, but only as individuals. The benediction formerly given on the site of the battle at which Joan of Arc defeated the English, April 29, 1429, and relieved the besieged city of Orleans, will be abolished.

COLLISION ON A., B. & A.

Engineer's Watch Was Thirty-Four Minutes Slow.

Brunswick, Ga., April 19.—In a head-on collision between an eastbound freight of 45 loaded cars and the local passenger train from Brunswick to Thalman at Anguilla, 16 miles west of this city, Tuesday night, Engineer J. K. Green, of the passenger train, was caught between the engine and tender and crushed. Both legs and right arm were broken and internal injuries received. Death resulted.

Engineer Gus Taylor, of the freight train, was trying to reach Brobston, the next station east. After the wreck he found his watch was 34 minutes behind that of his conductor.

Masons Meet at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., April 19.—The second general convocation of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry is in sesion in Savannah, having begun Tuesday. A large class is being put through the various degrees, and the event is one of the most signal that this section has known in Masonic interest. The conferring of the thirty--second degree will be for the first time in the history of Georgia Masons. The convocation will continue for four days.

Gov. Terrel at Chautauqua.

Albany, Ga., April 19.—Governor J. M. Terrell spoke to an immense audience Wednesday morning in the Chautauqua auditorium, the occasion being military and governor's day of the nineteenth annual assembly of the Georgia Chautauqua. The governor's address was of a partriotic character, full of spirit and of great power.

Little Child Shoots Brother.

Gainesville, Ga., April 19.—While playing with a parlor rifle, the 2½ year old son of Dan Awtrey, manager of the Farmers' Telephone line here, shot his 4-year-old brother in the head. The ball struck just above one eye and ploughed its way upward through the skull around the brain. It is thought now the boy will recover.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

REACHED ALARMING STAGE.

Depredations of Night Raiders in the Tobacco Region.

Nashville, Tenn., April 18.—A dispatch from Clarksville, Tenn., in the heart of the dark tobacco region says that the destruction of tobacco plant beds in the Clarksville district has reached an alarming stage, and it is feared that unless the depredations of the night riders are speedily stopped, there will be an unusually light crop.

During the past, a number of plant beds have been salted and the plants killed. In Trigg county, Kentucky, the situation is serious in the extreme.

Fully a score of plant beds have been destroyed, tobacco rolled into the river, warnings posted on the places of independent planters and trainmen have been threatened if they haul the tobacco of growers not connected with the association.

MORGAN 70 YEARS OLD.

Financier Will Retire, in a Measure, from Active Business.

New York, April 18.—J. Pierpont Morgan is 70 years old. The financier left this country for his annual European trip about a month ago, and is now in Italy.

The statement is made that it is unlikely that Mr. Morgan, on his return to this country, will resume active business cares as on former occasions. About the beginning of the year Mr. Morgan started a new custom of remaining up-town and transacting all his business by telephone from his library. When Mr. Morgan finally retires, his son, J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., will probably succeed him.

Held on Manslaughter Charge.

Savannah, Ga., April 19.—In the police court Wednesday George Hulbert, watchman; B. E. Wallace, engineer, and W. E. Jackson, fireman, in the employ of the Central of Georgia railway, who were in charge of the train and crossing when a sightseeing automobile was run down on Saturday last, injuring Mrs. Mary Teresa Bourke, of Brooklyn, N. Y., so badly that she died, and severely injuring several others, were held for trial on a charge of voluntary manslaughter.

Sold Peach Crop for Cash.

Atlanta, April 19.—According to a well authenticated statement made at the capitol, James Tate, of Elbert county, who owns an orchard of 10,000 peach trees in that county, has sold the entire crop of this year to a banker of Elberton for $10 cash. This is indicative of what Mr. Tate thinks has been done to the fruit by the cold weather. He does not think a crate of good peaches will be secured from his entire orchard. The transaction is a bona fide one.

Railroad in Receiver's Hands.

Tallapoosa, Ala., April 19.—The Vanderbilt Timber, Mining and Southern railway has been forced into the hands of a receiver. Former Mayor W. W. Summerlin, of this place, was appointed receiver. This road has had Montgomery, Ala., for its ultimate destination. George W. Vanderbilt, of Princeton, N. J., purchased the road and its right of way at a very low price about six years ago.

Guard Kills Convict.

Raleigh, N. C., April 19.—In an attempt to escape from the state penitentiary by three young convicts, one of them, C. L. Scruggs, was killed by the guard. Jack Williams and Dodd Wilson were recaptured. The men were from Guilford county, and were serving sentences of five years each for larceny and forgery.

AMERICAN GOLD COINS.

Why They Do Not Bear the Effigies of the Presidents.

On Oct. 31, 1791, the senate of the United States appointed Messrs. Morris, King, Cabot and Henry a committee to report a bill for the creation of a mint. Seven weeks later Mr. Morris reported a bill to establish a mint and to regulate the national coinage.

The senate debated the bill Dec. 26 and 27 and Jan. 2, 3, 4, 5, and again Jan. 9. On the last named day there was a proposal to place upon the obverse of the silver and copper coins a design of clasped hands and linked chains, emblematic of the union of the states, and upon the reverse the figure of Justice bearing the scales, but it was defeated.

On Jan. 12 the bill passed the senate with a provision that the coins bear upon one side the head of the president of the United States for the time being, with an inscription to express the initial letter of his Christian name and his surname in full, together with the "succession of the presidency numerically expressed." On the other side were to be an eagle and other devices.

This bill came to the house Jan. 13, 1792, and was referred to the committee of the whole. On March 24 the bill came up in committee of the whole, and an amendment was proposed striking out all that looked to the impressing of the president's effigy and name upon the coins and providing in lieu of it an emblematic head of Liberty with the word "Liberty."

This amendment brought on a debate in which a good many members took part, the men who afterward called themselves Republicans or Democratic Republicans in favor of the amendment, the Federalists mostly in opposition. One member objected to the president's head on the coinage as savoring of the practices of monarchies, which had taken this method of handing down to the ignorant the names and succession of their monarchs. The Scriptural phrase, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, unto God the things that are God's," was recalled.

It was argued on the other side that the proposed effigy was a proper tribute to Washington, to which a member responded that, while every one might be glad thus to honor the great man then president, there might be future presidents whose heads the people would not care to see upon the coins.

After the question had been ridiculed by one Federalist as too trivial for so much waste of time and the amendment had been seriously urged in speeches ornate with references to Roman history the question was divided, and the house voted, 26 to 22, that the name and effigy of the president should not appear upon the coins. It was then voted, 42 to 6, that the emblematic figure of Liberty should be substituted for the design proposed by the senate. Two days later the bill as amended passed by a vote of 32 to 22.

On the very same day the senate returned the bill to the house, with notice of dissent from the amendment. The house was not pleased at this prompt action of the senate. As the sessions of the latter body were secret in those days and very briefly reported in the published official "Annals of Congress," the nature of the debate in the senate is unknown.

There was more discussion in the house this time, with further denunciations of all signs and symbols of royalty. Mr. Mercer thought it would be well to have for the house of representatives some such rule as that of the British house of commons forbidding the mention of the sovereign's name in debate, and Mr. Page said he would rather cut off his right arm than sign the mint bill without the house amendment.

The house adhered to its amendment by a vote of 24 to 32, and next day, March 27, 1792, the senate receded from its disagreement.—New York Sun.

Good Judgment

Is the essential characteristic of men and women. Invaluable to good business men and necessary to housewives. A woman shows good judgment when she buys White's Cream Vermifuge for her baby—the best worm medicine ever offered to mothers. DOUBLING IN BRASS.

Minstrels Not the Only Men Who May Be Called Upon to Do This.

"I've heard of calls for minstrels that could double in brass," said a man who likes to read the advertisements in newspapers and that I could understand.

"The bones or the tambo man or the interlocutor or the man that sings the sweet tenor songs—every member of the troupe, in fact—may, I know, have to double in something—that is to say, be able to play on some sort of band instrument—for the men who sit around in a semicircle on the stage and jest and sing and make fun as minstrels will perhaps appear in other hours as members of what may be a very fair brass band, which parades the streets or gives a band concert on the balcony of the opera house before the evening performance.

"So doubling in brass for minstrels I understand, but here are machinists wanted to do the same thing. Here is an advertisement from a place up the state calling for machinists, lathe, bench and planer hands, who must be musicians and play cornet, trombone or B bass, and that is a new one to me. First time I ever heard of ability to play on some band instrument being required as a qualification for getting a job as a machinist."

"Why, that's an easy one," said the other. "That's a call for men who are musicians, from a factory that's got a brass band made up out of men in the shops.

"Some of the best known bands in the country, or some of the bands best known in their parts, anyway, have been made up in that way and have borne the names of the manufacturing establishments to which they belonged. Such bands give concerts and turn out in parades in their own and in neighboring towns.

"Some of these factory bands of smaller cities and towns have been very good bands indeed, as well they might be, with good training, made up as they have been of men selected from the hundreds, perhaps many hundreds, of employees engaged in some great manufacturing concern, with a high class professional musician for leader and a few trained musicians for the leading instruments.

"All over the country, in towns big and little, there are scattered local brass bands innumerable and good and bad, great numbers of the players in these bands being not professional musicians, but men engaged in other regular occupations who have a musical turn and, it may be, musical skill, who take up the playing because they like it or perhaps for the profit there is in it. Some of these bands are made up from the available material to be found in the entire population of a town. Then there are college brass bands and school brass bands and shop brass bands, such bands being composed of players from among the students or the workers in the several institutions or shops in which the bands are formed."—New York Sun.

There are but ten counties in the State that are not in the dry column. Wait until the prohibitionists get after them.

District Attorney Jerome must be a cold-blooded individual. It is said that he proposes to enter a vigorous objection to letting Harry Thaw out.

Despite unfavorable report, the Pinellas county bill advanced a step. The bill was placed upon its second reading Thursday. We may have another county before many days.

The Tampa Chamber of Commerce has passed resolutions antagonistic to Senator Humphreys' proposed resolution for an amendment to the Constitution providing for State prohibition.

Joe Walton and Alfred Sargeant, both negroes, will pay the penalty of their brutal crimes in Jacksonville on Friday, June 14th. This double hanging will be the first legal execution in Duval county in four years.

The Times-Union "Short Talks" man says that "the Sanford truck farmer who will realize $18,000 off 35 acres planted to celery this year is only another one of the farmers who are growing wealthy off Florida land!"

Floridians sympathize with the truckers and horticulturists of other States who were so materially damaged by the recent cold, and respectfully suggest that there is plenty of room in Florida, with the most fertile and diversified soil. They will be welcomed here.

The special election held in Jacksonville on Tuesday for the purpose of submitting to the voters for their approval an ordinance granting to the Jacksonville Electric Company a new franchise, resulted in the ratification of the ordinance by an overwhelming majority, the vote being 1,000 to 181.

And now comes a liar who circulated the report of the murder of Mrs. R. B. Atkinson, wife of a highly respected farmer in North Carolina, the report being corrected by the Associated Press. There is enough of the real thing going on, without the necessity of creating a sensation by circulating false reports.

Congressman Frank Clark delivered a strong and impressive address before the convention of county school superintendents at Tallahassee on Wednesday night. The convention, which met to make recommendation to the Legislature as to needed legislation looking to the betterment of the Florida schools, was held in the House of Representatives, and was attended by many prominent educators.

Tampa's postoffice employes will receive a large increase in their salaries. Under a recent act of Congress, increases in salaries were provided for, based upon the percentage of increased business over previous year. Tampa will receive a much larger increase than any other city in the South so far heard from. This is a fine showing for Tampa and would lead one to think that Tampa outstrips any other city in the South in the percentage of increase.

FLORIDA'S RESOURCES.

N. H. Fogg of Altamonte Springs, Orange county, has written to The Chattanooga Tradesman a most interesting letter relative to Florida's many interests, which is full of truth, and which in part is as followe:

"It is but a few years since the productiveness of Florida became known to agriculturists—in fact only since the disastrous freeze of 1895, previous to which time it was considered that nothing could be raised at a profit here except citrus fruits, razor-back hogs and scrub cattle. But after the almost complete destruction of the magnificent orange groves those who could not leave the State on account of their depleted bank accounts and those who would not leave this most delightful country began to look the situation in the face.

"On looking over their sandy soil, that had produced such beautiful and immense orange trees, it occurred to them that land that would produce such mammoth orange trees ought surely to produce something else if properly cultivated and managed. They at once ploughed their grove land, which in most cases was under a high state of cultivation, and planted it in crops of various kinds as an experiment, and in most cases their harvest was a revelation to them, and it at once became evident that diversified crops was the only successful road to prosperity; and today it has been conceded that the destructive freeze was a blessing in disguise, as the thousands of happy and prosperous farmers and fruit growers are in evidence. The fruit industry was not abandoned only in cases of financial embarrassment. The groves that recuperated and the new groves planted would not indicate to the newcomers that the beautiful groves of a few years ago had ever been destroyed. Aside from the fruit industry other crops are now cultivated with the most gratifying results, and every industrious and enterprising man now possesses a snug bank account and is enjoying life and longevity in this delightful climate.

"In describing the success of agricultural pursuits the raising of fine stock must not be lost sight of. Instead of the razor-back hogs the varieties of pure bred hogs which thrive best in this mild climate have been introduced and Florida can now produce as fine stock as any section of the United States, and it is now conceded to be a most satisfactory and profitable industry.

"The climatic conditions and the easily cultivated crops for their maintenance and fattening has demonstrated that a pound of pork can be produced for about one-half of the expense that it can be produced in any other State, except it be in some other of the extremely Southern States. The scrub stock has seen its day and has been supplanted by blooded stock as successfully as in the hog industry. The falling off of the shipments of Western beef in the past few years is very pronounced, and the indications now point to the export of fine beef cattle from her borders in the near future."

Judging from the published reports of the storm in Jacksonville Thursday afternoon, the people of that city had a "hail of a time" for an hour or so. But Jacksonville, like the house that was built upon the rocks, is there to stay, and it will require something more than fires and cloudbursts and hail storms to keep her down. The only thing would be a landslide to dump her into the sea, and then it would not be surprising to see her "bob up serenely" from the depths of Old Neptune.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The first convention of the National Arbitration Peace Commission has come to an end in New York with very gratifying results, being an affiliation of the important nations of the world. Let it be hoped that the world will follow the objects and principles of this great gathering of distinguished advocates of peace, for, as the Hon. William J. Bryan remarked in his address before the convention, we should make peace by love, and not by force.

The entire population of the Jacksonville city jail, which comprised somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty-five members of the colored race, took "French leave" a few nights since. This was the first jail delivery to occur there since the new prison has been in use.

Whiskey is a bad thing, it is said. In some places they vote it out, in others they fight it out, but down in Orlando it appears they have adopted a new method, and are trying to burn it out. Two saloons were destroyed it that city by fire Thursday morning.

Chicago policemen are now charged with having put up money for the use of the Democrats during the last campaign in that city. Chicago does not allow some other towns to get the best of her on any proposition.

GLASS FOR WINDOWS

Art of the Man Who Manipulates the Blowpipe.

SHAPING THE MOLTEN MASS.

The Juggler Before the Fiery Furnace Must Have Skill and Strength and Dexterity—The Flattening and Cleaning Process.

In different towns in the gas belt of Kansas there are great factories where window glass is made. It is an interesting process.

Entering the factory, we see great bins of sand, carbon and lime mixed together in a fine powder ready to be dumped by a swinging crane, 250 pounds at a time, into the crucible or tank of melting glass near by. At hand also are heaps of broken glass—the trimmings and debris of the factory. These are also melted up and used again.

The furnace fire, fed by gas, glows to a brilliant white.

The crucibles of baked clay are bathed in this heat of 2,800 degrees. Into these crucibles a placid Belgian loads from time to time the mixture of sand, carbon and lime until, when melted, it makes 600 tons of molten glass. It is this molten glass at the other end of the furnace that the blowers take out on their blowpipes to use. The Belgian wears smoked glasses to protect his eyes from the fiery light.

Passing to the other end of the factory where the blowers are, you feel as if approaching a great stage prepared for some highly spectacular scene.

The dozen terrible furnaces throw a brilliant light across the floor, but cast strange bobbing and crouching shadows up among the dark rafters. There is no talk. Breath is precious where it is used to make window glass. Scantily dressed men hurry here and there, carrying great wads of soft glass so white as to throw out a slight violet glow.

Each man is a clear cut, rosy silhouette against a dark background if you see the furnace side of him or a sharp, black silhouette against a light background if he stands between you and the furnace.

Possibly the most picturesque part of it all is the place where the blower takes the lump of glass with its cavity possibly eighteen inches long and skillfully increases that cavity by further inflating it with his breath until it is fully as large as himself.

He stands before the open door of a furnace. A swinging screen is between him and the fire. The screen is notched, on which he may rest his blowpipe with its long glass weight at the end.

Resting the cylinder so, he may push it into the fiery furnace if it has grown slightly hard or by a movement draw it out again.

The melted glass is taken by a man called a "gatherer" on the end of a blowpipe—that is, a hollow crowbar-like instrument. The mass of soft glass to be worked weighs perhaps fifty or sixty pounds. The blower injects air by blowing through his pipe into the middle of it to inflate it like a balloon, except that the hollow glass is much longer than wide and looks like a monstrus bottle five feet long dangling by its neck from the end of the blowpipe.

In manipulating the glass the blower must keep the huge bottle suspended and moving almost constantly, and for this a long opening into the basement is made in the floor before him. Here he swings back and forth his great six foot blowpipe with six feet more of glass at the end. Now and then he twirls it gayly upward and, resting it on the screen, swings it lightly into the fire, blows a little perhaps and before you know it has it back down in the opening in the floor, swinging it skillfully back and forth, twirling it lightly, as though it did not weigh, blowpipe and all, something like seventy pounds.

Just before the glass becomes too hard to manage the blower, by one of those simple twists which he is paid good wages for knowing how to do, manages to cause a hole to appear in the bottom of the bottle, and it widens and widens for a minute until there is no bottom to the bottle. A helper then takes the blowpipe with the now hard bottomless bottle and carefully breaks off the one from the other.

Along comes the "snapper," who winds a little string of soft redhot glass around our big bottle at just the point where the sides begin to narrow toward the neck. A little rap on the glass, and the neck drops off, cleaving a way in a perfect line just where the redhot glass touched. We now have left a great perfect cylinder of glass five feet long and fourteen or eighteen inches in diameter and weighing about sixty pounds, blowpipe and all.

As it lies on the table another man reaches into it with a redhot iron looking like a poker. He traces with this redhot point a straight line on the side of the cylinder from end to end, and at once the glass splits on that line. Now you have a cylinder with a crack down one side, and you can readily see that if the cylinder can be persuaded to flatten out it will be a nearly square sheet.

Here comes a reckless boy with a spring pushcart. He loads ten of these cylinders on, placing each in a festoon of two leather straps, which are strung on springs, and away he goes full gallop down a slight incline to the great flattening room. There our cylinder will be coaxed out flat by a gentle heating, great enough to soften but not enough to melt the glass.

A great, low oven is the flattening place. A boy lifts into the oven on a traveling table one of the huge cylinders. You remember it has been cooled, so now the end of the oven at which it enters is not very warm, but it is moved along by hidden machinery through greater and greater heat until it finally rests on a smooth stone table in a section of the oven so hot that the glass grows slightly soft and limp enough so that a man by reaching into the oven with a long handled scraper can easily smooth it out flat.

When this has been successfully done, the great revolving stone table on which it has been lying while flattening wheels it around to a cooler part of the oven.

It is given a little push and slides off on to an iron frame which travels slowly through the sections of the oven, growing gradually cooler and cooler. At the last end, sixty feet away, it is cool enough to be handled by a man with gloves, who stands the sheet of glass in a frame which dips it by machinery into a bath in the basement of boiling water and muriatic and nitric acid. This thoroughly cleans the glass.

Glass blowers are strong men. Like the village blacksmith, their "muscles are strong as iron bands."

The glassblowers' guild attends strictly to its own affairs and will take only a limited number of apprentices, who must be sons or brothers of glassblowers.

They know their business and know it well—know all there is at present to be known about it—and so they are secure of always having a job, and one that pays well. Many of them make $50 a week.

The glassblower is proud of his work. He chose it when a boy. He expects to stay with it while he lives. He is proud that his father before him and his grandfather—yes, and often his great-grandfather before him—were blowers, and he hopes and believes that his family to come for generations more will also be blowers of glass.—Kansas City Star.

The Word "Toast."

The word "toast," used for describing the proposal of a health in an after dinner speech, dates back to mediaeval times, when the loving cup was still regarded as an indispensable feature of every banquet. The cup would be filled to the brim with wine or mead, in the center of which would be floating a piece of toasted bread. After putting his lips thereto the host would pass the cup to the guest of honor, seated on his right hand, and the latter would in turn pass it to his right hand neighbor. In this manner the cup would circulate around the table, each one present taking a sip, until finally the cup would come back to the host, who would drain what remained and swallow the piece of toast in honor of all the friends assembled at his table.

Gladstone Spoke in the Rain.

One day as Mr. Gladstone was speaking from the terrace rain began to fall. With the first few drops came a voice from the crowd, "Put on your hat, Mr. Gladstone." "No," blandly responded the veteran; "some prefer their hats on; I prefer mine off." As the rain fell more heavily Mrs. Gladstone stepped behind her husband and held an umbrella over his bare head. He was over eighty at the time. Mr. Gladstone went fluently on, expounding the merits of rabbit farming, but after a time even he noticed the rain and the umbrella. Turning to Mrs. Gladstone, he said, "I will put my own up, my dear," and he did so. Again the eloquent voice galloped on, while the rain became heavier and heavier. Presently Mrs. Gladstone threw a light mackintosh over her husband's shoulders. The moment he felt it he turned quickly round and with some asperity said, "I won't have it." He shrugged his shoulders, the mackintosh fell, and Mrs. Gladstone stepped back. For five minutes more in a deluge Mr. Gladstone went on; then he stopped, and we all fled.—Manchester Guardian.

Why He Laughed.

The leader Damrosch once took an aged Hebrew friend to hear Meyerbeer's opera of "The Huguenots." Suddenly the old man burst into a loud guffaw as if some funny idea had struck him. "Why do you laugh?" inquired Damrosch. "Laugh! It's de beth game I ever saw. Vy, dare's a bloomin' lot o' Protestanth an' Catholicth a-killin' of each other to music written by a Jew! Ha, ha! I'll come every night."—London Graphic.

Igneous Rocks.

Igneous is derived from the Latin word ignis, meaning fire, and igneous rocks are those which geologists say were produced through the action of heat. Igneous rocks are divided into two great groups, volcanic and plutonic. The volcanic, as the name implies, are those brought to the surface by volcanic action, while the plutonic are those which have solidified below the surface of the earth and have been exposed by the wearing away of the strata above them.

An Explanation.

"Effie," said Margie, who was laboriously spelling words from a first reader, "how can I tell which is a 'd' and which is a 'b'?"

"Why," replied Effie wisely, "the 'd' has its tummy on its back."—Harper's Weekly.

Difficulty is a severe instruction set over us by the supreme ordinance of a paternal guardian and legislator who knows us better than we know ourselves.—Burke.
